

2024 ALI MAZRUI MEMORIAL LECTURE

“Social reproduction and surplus populations of the agrarian South”

2024 ALI MAZRUI LECTURE PROGRAM

FRIDAY OCTOBER 11TH 2024

Time	Programming	Featured Speaker
10:00 AM	Welcome Reception	Dr. Joyce Muchemi
10:20 AM	Introduction of Speakers / AAPS international team	Dr Francis Khayundi
10:40 AM	United States International University Africa -Africa Chancellor's Welcome	Dean, School of Humanities & Social Sciences (USIU)
11:00 AM	AAPS Message	AAPS President, Prof Christopher Isike ( University of Pretoria)
	Presentation of the 2024 Nominee	AAPS Treasurer, Dr Dikeledi Mokoena ( University of Johannesburg)
11:30AM – 12:30PM	Ali Mazrui Lecture 2024 Topic: “Social reproduction and surplus populations of the agrarian South” Insights on CODESRIA and how students and faculty can tap into it.	Prof. Lyn Ossome
12:30PM - 1PM	Question & Answer	AAPS Treasurer, Dr Dikeledi Mokoena Dr. Ongama Mtimka (Nelson Mandela University)
12.40PM	Closing remarks	AAPS President, Prof Christopher Isike
1PM	Lunch
2PM	Meeting with AAPS- Kenyan chapter	Dr. Sherlyn Achieng Dr. Joyce Muchemi

GUEST SPEAKER'S BIO

Lyn Ossome is Associate Professor and Director of the Makerere Institute of Social Research (MISR), Makerere University. She has held previous faculty positions as Associate Professor of Political Studies at Wits University, Senior Research Fellow at MISR, and Visiting Presidential Professor at Yale University.

Her specializations are in the fields of feminist political economy and feminist political theory, with research interests in gendered labour, land and agrarian questions, the modern state, and the political economy of gendered violence. Her books include Gender, Ethnicity and Violence in Kenya's Transitions to Democracy: States of Violence (2018), the co-edited volume Labour Questions in the Global South (2021), and a forthcoming monograph titled Democracy's Subjections: Colonial Modernity and the Gendered Subject of Violence.

She is one of the editors of Agrarian South: Journal of Political Economy, Journal of Contemporary African Studies, and Feminist Africa. She serves on numerous boards and is the current president of the Council for the Development of Social Science Research in Africa (CODESRIA).